United Way Appoints Chairmen, Board

United Way of Martin County recently appointed its 2010-11 campaign co-chairmen and welcomed three new board members.

This year's fundraising campaign will be led by Ron Bunch, of the Business Development Board of Martin County; Ademil Castrillo of Wachovia Bank and Bruce Farren, a retired executive from General Electric.

"United Way is fortunate to have a terrific trio of outstanding business and community leaders chairing this year's campaign," said Jim Vojcsik, executive director of United Way of Martin County. "Behind these leaders is the engine that drives the annual campaign, hundreds of volunteers in workplaces, neighborhoods and communities who advocate for United Way, by asking their co-workers, friends and neighbors to give a donation or offer their time to help those in need and make a difference in our community."

The three co-chairmen will lend their expertise to United Way as the organization sets out to touch 95,000 lives in Martin County by raising $2.3 million during this year's campaign that funds programs at more than 40 local nonprofit agencies.

New United Way board members are Amy Albury of FPL; Chad Hastings of Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith; and Edward Ciampi, of the Martin County Board of County Commissioners.
