

Deputies strut their stuff for charity

Harvey Oyer, III, co-chairman, left; Major James Storms, Sheriff Ric Bradshaw, Cpl. Robert Cresswell and Gary Lesser, benefactor

Take a seat for "Models of Success," a charity fashion show benefiting The Lupus Foundation of America, Southeast Florida Chapter, Inc. On April 16, Palm Beach County Sheriff's deputies will trade in their uniforms for designer clothes from Bloomingdale's Palm Beach Gardens.

The "Models of Success" fashion show will take place at the Trump International Golf Club at 6 p.m. Guests can also enjoy a cocktail hour, formal dinner and silent auction.

Gary Lesser, the managing partner at Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith, PLLC is the Benefactor Sponsor of this event. Lesser has served as the chairman of the Florida Bar Professional Ethics Committee and has been appointed to the Florida Bar Advertising Committee and has served as the chairman of the Professionalism Committee of the Palm Beach County Bar Association for many years.

Palm Beach County Sheriff Ric

Bradshaw is the Honorary Chair of the event, while WPBF's Tiffany Kenney will serve as master of ceremonies. The event co-chairpersons are Gail Eissey and attorney Harvey Oyer, III of Shutts & Bowen LLP.

Committee members include: Michelle Bacon and David C. Prather, Lytal, Reiter, Clark, Fountain and Williams; Therese Barbera, Capt. Carol Gregg, Glenda Jackson and Lesley Shriberg, Palm Beach Sheriff's Office; Donald Barnes, Toll Brothers, Inc.; Nina Hirsch, Corn Legal Consulting; Leigh Keaton, RSM McGladrey; Monte Lambert, Forte Interactive; Gary Lesser and Linda Seyedin, Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith, PLLC; Christine Pitts, Toshiba Business Solutions; Michelle Suskauer, The Suskauer Law Firm; Clara Mayo and Lisa Thomas.

Tickets are still available for $175.

For more information, call 561-279-8606 or e-mail info@lupusfl.org. ■

Laura Gallo, general manager, Bloomingdales Palm Beach Gardens, left; Tiffany Kenney, WPBF 25; and Gail Eissey, co-chairwoman